MY MOTHER

Go forth, my little book!
Pursue thy way!
Go forth, and please the
Gentle and the good.

FOREWORD

THIS little volume was written as the direct response to many requests for some book of my own on the subject I have chosen as my life-work. Many of these requests were from those who claim to have received help and inspiration through the "human nature clinics" conducted in my New York studio; others have come through the mail from those interested through my newspaper and radio work and anxious to avail themselves of the help of Astrology in their struggle to achieve success.

In order to make Astrology comprehensible to the multitude of earnest and thoughtful searchers after truth, and applicable to the vital needs of every-day life, I have exercised great care not to allow my own conception of the sublimity and grandeur of the subject to obscure my vision of it from the standpoint of the reader who seeks knowledge in this field for the first time. Therefore the pages following stand shorn of all verbiage, containing in the briefest form only those truths which the ambitious seeker after success desires to know.

For this book, which I am sending forth with so many good wishes to all mankind, I ask only that kind and friendly reception which any earnest work deserves, claiming for it exactly what the title implies: that through the knowledge of the stars which it reveals each can so shape his life as to eliminate much of the dreary toil and unnecessary guess-work usually encountered in the struggle to reach the goal.

THE AUTHOR

HOW ASTROLOGY HELPS

HUMANITY may be divided into three classes: The successful, who know exactly what they want and get it with a minimum of time and effort; those who think they know what they want but spend years of needless toil in trying to achieve, always baffled, always finding the prize just beyond their grasp; and those who merely drift, perhaps with a vague, indefinable desire for the better things of life but making no effort to improve their condition.

¶ You are probably in the second or the third class. If in the second, you are perhaps reading this book in the spirit of experiment. You have tried many things, read many books, in your restless seeking for the key to success, but you never thought the stars had anything to do with shaping your life. No doubt you are even thinking to yourself that the idea is ridiculous. You probably smiled a little, sardonically, as your eye caught the title on the cover. Yet you are reading, which is a hopeful sign because it indicates that you still are interested in yourself, that you still possess the spirit of the investigator.

¶ Dear reader, you whom I may never meet except through the pages of this book, let me urge, before going further, that you lay aside your prejudices, erase from your mind all former impressions, and prepare to read what follows in the determination to extract from it its message for you—for it has a message.

¶ In order to obtain the place in life you want you must have a knowledge of yourself and your fellowman. You must know how to change your adversities into factors of success. Has your life been filled with trials, unhappy experiences? Then you are a fortunate individual! Prepare now to turn them to beautiful results. Every hour of past despair may mean a day of present triumph if you are wise enough to apply the lessons of experience, and go forward in the light of the knowledge gleaned from these pages.

¶ In order to progress you must cultivate an open mind. Cease living in your narrow little world of routine and humdrum, dealing only with petty affairs. Rouse yourself and look about you—it is the wonder-age of man! Earth and sky and sea are filled with marvels which are being revealed to us as fast as the human intellect can receive them. The latest advancement in electrical science—Radio—has been a great force in vivifying the mind of humanity with the realization of latent forces in the universe. Resolve to be a part of this wonder-age. Send your mind out in search of new facts, new ideas, new methods. Lay aside your prejudices and your indolence—investigate!

¶ The influence of the stars and planets affects the magnetism of the earth, which in turn acts upon the physical and the spiritual in all phases of life. In the animal and vegetable kingdoms everything is in a state of flux, forever changing, always being created and recreated. Nature is constantly seeking to express harmony in all things, trying to bring about an harmonious adjustment for every discord. The whole universe is a unity—what affects part affects the whole. What affects the planetary bodies influences us, and all life. So, in order to increase his mental stature man must learn the conditions of his growth and co-operate with Nature in his own evolution.

¶ The oldest of all sciences, the history of Astrology can be traced so far into the past that it becomes a task actually to discover when and where it had its origin. It was the beginning of nearly all that we hold valuable in art, literature, religion and science, surviving through the ages to become the hope and the inspiration of the modern world. While in reality the profoundest of all studies, it is based upon simplicity.

¶ Modern disciples of Astrology believe that their aspirations may be realized through a knowledge of the planetary bodies. We believe that there is a close relation between the stars and the souls of men, and that the position of the various planets at the time of his birth governs the fortunes of each human being.

¶ A knowledge of Astrology provides us with a tremendous conquering force by familiarizing us with our strength and our weakness, and by showing us the most opportune time for carrying out our plans. As our comprehension of the science increases we are filled with a new charity, both for ourselves and those with whom we come in contact, because it furnishes a scientific reason for traits of character otherwise inexplicable. We are given not only the power to analyze character, but we are taught how to correct our faults, and how to find a remedy for adverse conditions.

¶ The destiny of every human being is in his own hands, because while the stars incline they do not compel. The planets may influence him for good or for evil. There is that in man higher even than the planets. By a self-knowledge he may evade their adverse influences. Man may utilize propitious planetary conditions to his own profit by furthering the affairs which they affect. By acting in harmony with the laws of God we rise above all other laws. We must not fail to live up to our highest possibilities.

Ruled by Mars, the planet of activity

If you were born between

MARCH 21st and APRIL 20th

Your chief characteristics are energy and activity. You are a natural leader. You should never work under orders. If you do you are apt to lose your initiative. Being executive, you should plan your activities and procure the help of others to follow them out. Unless you receive quick co-operation on a project and the immediate carrying out of plans, you may lose your zeal over it. You are idealistic to a degree and have remarkable powers of perception. You are, however, apt to build many mental castles.

¶ Your over-enthusiasm on most things may cause you to become intolerant of others, and therefore you are inclined to become independent and aggressive. You should curb this attitude, otherwise you may, by your own actions, lose out on the big things in life. Be discreet, and not too outspoken. Your message in life is to inspire and lead. Be diplomatic at all times and practise self-control. You are essentially one who will fight if necessary for your rights. You are clever, ingenious and shrewd. You should beware of monopolizing conversations. Allow the other person a word here and there. When you are mentally fatigued or worried go away alone, and walk in the outdoors, even if only for a few moments. You will find this treatment a most helpful tonic, as the sign under which you were born has affinity with the outdoors.

¶ Being highly intuitive, you must exercise care in analyzing your reactions after first meeting people. Be sure you are not wholly guided by the mental faculties minus feeling, and that you are not bigoted. You have the other extreme of being a most loyal friend, and are very apt to overlook, almost to your own detriment, faults in those whom you love.

¶ Whenever possible, select spacious living and working quarters and have plenty of light and air. Never attempt to live in a depressing atmosphere, or associate with people who are antagonistic. You require perfect harmony at all times to be happy and to do your best work.

¶ The diseases to which you are most susceptible are those which affect the head, face and brain, the nervous system and its dependencies and the spinal column. There is also, under abuse, a liability to neuralgia and upsets in the stomach and kidneys. Never overwork mentally.

¶ Occupations for which you are best fitted and in which you would gain greatest success are the legal profession, as a trial lawyer; the medical profession as surgeon. You would also excel as a soldier, chemist, writer of instructive literature or short stories, salesman, athlete, architect, designer, artist, executive, organizer, promoter of large schemes, agent, teacher, detective, inspector, foreman, lecturer, pioneer. You are also an excellent character reader.

¶ People who would prove most congenial to you are those born under the signs Sagittarius, Leo, Aquarius, Gemini, Libra, Aries.

There 's not the smallest orb, which thou behold'st,
But in his motion like an angel sings.

—Shakespeare

Ruled by Venus, the planet of love

If you were born between

APRIL 21st and MAY 20th

Your chief characteristics are constancy and conservatism. You have tremendous building powers, and your perseverance will enable you to carry out whatever you undertake. You work best associated with others and are reliable, practical and trustworthy. You can carry out orders to the letter. You must, however, be most careful that under the management of another you do not entirely submerge yourself. You are dogmatic and determined and inclined to be obstinate.

¶ Your greatest danger lies in excess. Unless you cultivate poise in all matters you are very likely to get into a rut and it would take you a long time to get out of it. Owing to your very sensitive nature, this is true both in your business and social life. You possess a great amount of dignity and are secretive in most things. You have an excellent memory, fond of your own opinions, silent and of an inexorable will. You are very apt to hold grievances and prejudices which may greatly hamper your success either in business or in personal matters. Your great craving for material things and for ease will keep your shoulder to the wheel of labor.

¶ You have a great sympathy for others and are apt to be unconsciously influenced and misled by your associations. Be sure of the type of person to whom you give your confidences. Decide all matters of importance alone. For illustration, if you have an important proposition offered you, or are about to settle on something heard for the first time, wait until you have pondered over it, away from the influence of others, before giving your final assent.

¶ Although slow to anger, when you reach a certain point of endurance you are apt to experience a lasting siege of rage. This is injurious both to your projects and your health. Here again you should govern yourself. Eliminate those things which cause you ire. Your will power should be malleable so as to cope with your desire nature, and to the consideration of others. If ever you get into the rut spoken of above, you may find yourself lazy and your most detrimental characteristics will come to the fore.

¶ The diseases to which you are most susceptible are those affecting the throat, larnyx, lips, ears and heart, and ailments that come as a result of over-eating or drinking. Excesses of any kind may lead to hardening of the arteries, apoplexy and inertia, quinsy, diabetes, piles, fistulas. Avoid self-indulgence.

¶ Occupations for which you are best fitted and in which you would gain greatest success are agriculturist, as farmer or gardener; in the commercial world as bookkeeper, typist, bookbinder, interior decorator, dressmaker, insurance or real estate agent, solicitor of almost any kind, or florist, broker, dealer in woolen goods or women's apparel. In the professional world as trained nurse, healing doctor or scientist, actress, singer, artist or musician, particularly player of string instruments.

¶ People who would prove most congenial to you are those born under the signs: Taurus, Scorpio, Cancer, Capricorn, Virgo and Pisces.

I have been near, I have been far, my back 's been at the wall,
Yet aye and ever shone the star to guide me through it all.
The love of God, the help of man, they both shall make me bold Against the gates of darkness as beside the gates of gold.
—Robert Louis Stevenson

Ruled by the planet Mercury, ruler of the mentality

If you were born between

MAY 21st and JUNE 20th

Your chief characteristics are readiness of comprehension and versatility. You delight in intellectual pursuits but you may lack the concentration needed to succeed in them. You are temperamental, and therefore in order to make the best use of your powers and abilities you should strive always to be active mentally and physically. You have a subtle sense of humor and brilliant wit which, if made the dominant note, will gain every advantage for you in your contact with people. You are capable of doing more than one thing at a time. You can take the reins in the successful management of many interests, but have a tendency to start numerous enterprises without having the tenacity of purpose to bring them to a successful termination. If you find it difficult to complete what you have begun, get some one who can and will do it for you.

¶ You are likely to exaggerate, whether for good or evil, and this trait, if not carefully curbed, may cause you to be known as a teller of untruths. Never make any promises unless you are certain you can keep them. You have a dualistic nature which may cause you much unhappiness unless you understand yourself thoroughly. You may experience a constant desire for change, and this restlessness, unless checked or directed into constructive channels, may cause you to become irritable and vacillating. Your discontent is due to the fact that you are not gratifying an inward longing to achieve to the best of your ability, and unless you do you can not be happy. The real You within yourself will rebel and absolute harmony will be impossible.

¶ If you will but stop a moment and consider what scattering your energies means to your success in life, realizing as you career along that somewhere you must set a definite goal, you will see the wisdom and benefit of concentrated effort. Take yourself into account. You have ability. Are you doing to the best in you? Be honest with yourself. If the answer is No, resolve now—today—to advance. You can win if you take that attitude.

¶ You have a strong love nature but are inclined to seek variety. It is essential to your highest development that you have some romance in your life, but guard against becoming diffuse or capricious in your attachments. Here again the double element comes to light. Your nature is to love more than one person at the same time, but in each case it may be for an entirely different reason. One may attract you through the intellect, another through the eye, another through the affections, etc. This is not to be regarded as a weakness, a cause for reproach, but should make you cautious in the selection of a mate. Be sure beyond a doubt just what qualities in a life-partner are likely to make you happy. Endeavor to find one individual embodying all or most of the qualities you admire, and do not marry until you do find that person. Otherwise, although you may find some happiness, you will never be content.

¶ Never allow yourself to stagnate. When you are uneasy take a short journey or absent yourself, even if only for a day, from those in constant association with you. This will give you the necessary mental balance.

¶ The diseases to which you are most susceptible are those which affect the lungs and respiratory system, shoulders, arms and hands, the mind and the nervous system. You must avoid worry and excitement. Be most careful as to your diet, as a great deal depends upon this. Sleep as much as possible. Your over-activeness requires that you rest more than other people.

¶ Occupations for which you are best fitted and in which you would gain greatest success are, in the commercial world as traveler, seller of merchandise, advertising writer, translator, milliner, official of any kind. In the professional world as editor, writer of short stories, journalist, lecturer, reporter, schoolmaster, surveyor, astronomer, aviator, musician or composer.

¶ People who would prove most congenial to you are those born under the signs Gemini, Sagittarius, Leo, Aquarius, Libra and Aries.

The man in the street does not know a star in the sky.
—Emerson

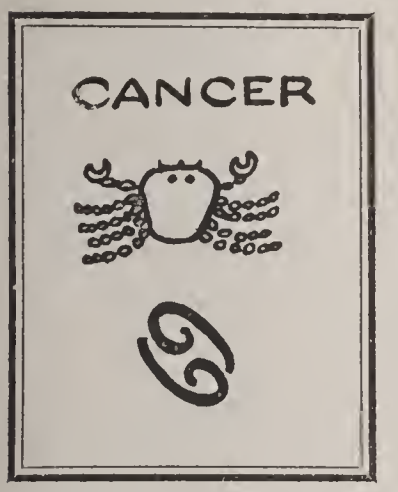
Ruled by the Moon, ruler of the subtle life forces

If you were born between

JUNE 21st and JULY 20th



Your chief characteristics are tenacity and sensitiveness. You are quiet, reserved, emotional and sentimental, and have a great love for the home and its surroundings. Your great sympathy for everything in general, and your dislike of disapproval, may cause you untold heartaches. You should be most careful in selecting your environment, as uncongenial associations have a most deleterious effect upon your health and character. A great deal of difficulty in shaping your life can be overcome if you will try to oust the spirit of jealousy.

¶ Being highly impressionable, you are very likely at times to border on the superstitious and sometimes the morbid. Do not allow yourself to become clannish. Curb the tendency to be sensational, as you may center your attentions, strengthened by this emotion, until your very life becomes a routine, a satisfied existence, controlled by the minds, right or wrong, of those with whom you come in daily contact.

¶ Be yourself, for you have it in you to become individualized and to embrace the masses, either in professional or business life. Your stick-to-it-iveness will aid you if you once determine your goal. Start now and establish that aim. Your faith is your assistance—you can not fail. Your imagination is vivid, and if you utilize it to advantage constructively you can become a great force for good in the world. You are by nature economical, thrifty and careful of your own affairs. You have a retentive memory and therefore you need be cautious that you do not permit yourself to review past events and become satisfied to live in memories, thereby hindering your progress.

¶ You are likely to suffer as the result of the actions of others because unwilling to hurt them. Remember here the law of compensation, and know that you will ultimately be rewarded for your spirit of self-sacrifice or self-control. It is essential that you understand thoroughly the process of eliminating friends and associates who vex or irritate you. Avoid anxiety wherever possible. Be serene, and if you find that you retain unfavorable impressions from your surroundings change your work and environment. You should endeavor to be broad-minded and refrain from becoming dramatic over trifling situations. If you will overcome your weaknesses you can attract whatever you desire of life.

¶ The diseases to which you are most susceptible are those which affect the stomach and digestive organs, the breasts and pleura, and the circulation, chronic disorders and inflammatory rheumatism, dropsy, scrofula, cancer and dipsomania.

¶ Occupations for which you are best fitted and in which you would gain greatest success are those of hotel-keeper, dealer in liquids, sea captain, or any occupation connected with the sea; host or hostess, cook, nursemaid or housekeeper, or dealer in antiques. In the professional world you would succeed as an emotional actor, writer of sensational stories, singer, historian, designer, especially of women's apparel, and also as an occultist.

¶ People who would prove most congenial to you are those born under the signs Cancer, Capricorn, Virgo, Pisces, Scorpio and Taurus.

Steer your ship by the stars, but don't forget the sands.

Ruled by the Sun, giver of life, and ruling the individuality

If you were born between

JULY 21st and AUGUST 20th

Your chief characteristics are faith and compassion. You should never work under the command of others, as you are a natural leader. You possess the faculty of combining the real and the ideal. You are sensitive and intuitive, and respond readily to uplifting influences. You are capable of realizing all ambitions and you should follow the dictates of your heart, striving to put into actual form the lofty thoughts that possess you. Adverse conditions can never keep you down permanently. Therefore, in business or in personal matters when encountering trials or tribulations your greatest help lies in stimulating the fires of your inherent faith.

¶ As a leader you should exercise great care that you do not entirely dominate. Allow others freedom of thought. You are a lover of comfort and luxury, and if you pamper yourself you are apt to become indolent and lose your opportunities in life. You must be cautious in your friendships, as people affect you by their idiosyncrasies and may cause you to lose your self-control. You loathe injustice of any kind and are likely to become embittered if deceived by those whom you trust. If you allow for human failings you may save yourself many disappointments. You require love, sympathy and congenial surroundings in order to do your best work.

¶ Unless you conquer your weaknesses and put Will above Desire you are not living, you are not achieving. You are but taking the path of least resistance. Force yourself into recognizing that you can be loyal to your true ambitions and can then be of real service to humanity. This expression of your true self means happiness. Your nature is of the mellow softness that radiates inspiration to others when you are engineering your abilities in the right channels. It is better for your progress that you struggle for a while, if you must, with adverse conditions, than to take the easy road, for in the end you will surely rise above them. The result of true efforts on your part will be so magnificent, so glorious and colossal, that once attained you may look back upon your present environment from heights now undreamed of. Obey the impulse, for you can possess that which you desire and you can not fail. When once you start on the right path there is no retrograding. You leap forward, and you know the difference between right and wrong because of your great faith.

¶ The diseases to which you are most susceptible are those which affect the heart, the stomach, the dorsal region and vertebræ, the eyes; also fevers, pains in the back and ribs, spinal meningitis, lumbago, and breakdowns due to overwork or infections. You must have at all times perfect harmony and peace, otherwise you are likely to ruin your health and be in danger of collapse that may have very disastrous results. A daily period of solitude is an absolute requisite to the highest and most perfect living.

¶ Occupations for which you are best fitted, and in which you would gain the greatest success, are, in the commercial world as broker, jeweler, banker; in any and all authoritative positions, in government work; as teacher, executive, or in club work. In this latter capacity you might always be the power behind the throne. In the professional world as dramatist, musician of a very high order, poet, divine, lecturer, astrologer, astronomer, government official, judge. In anything you do you are likely to gain public recognition.

¶ People who would prove most congenial to you are those born under the signs Leo, Aquarius, Libra, Aries, Gemini and Sagittarius.

Yet shall thy name, conspicuous and sublime,
Stand in the spacious firmament of time,
Fixed as a star.

Ruled by the planet Mercury, ruling the intellect

If you were born between

AUGUST 21st and SEPTEMBER 20th

Your chief characteristics are practicality, discrimination and censoriousness. You are a natural teacher, possessing a sagacious mind that should be used in self-development and in helping others. You can be self-possessed when you wish to be, and maintain a poise fitting you for any desired role in life. You have marked inventive talents and a great amount of resourcefulness. You are ambitious and, when developed, can become profound in knowledge. You should never work under orders, or as an executive, but associate yourself with another.

¶ Being hypercritical, you are very likely to be at daggers drawn with the rest of humanity, as others resent being scrutinized so thoroughly. Your motives are sincere but you are likely to be misunderstood, and should cultivate tact and diplomacy. You are even critical of yourself to a degree. Your interest in the affairs of others very often leads you to unwarranted meddling. Remember that each individual needs his own experiences, and refrain from giving too much " advice."

¶ As you are a natural lover of flattery, this attention may lead you into obscurity by your becoming the victim of the subtlety of others. You are very sensitive, both to the conditions and actions of those about you, and should avoid annoyance over little things. Much of your unhappiness is brought about by your own attitude. You are likely to become more irritable and dictatorial than people born under any other sign, and if you curb this tendency you can become a natural teacher, a helpful factor in the betterment of humanity. You must not expect perfection in others unless you are willing to make your own life perfect.

¶ To be happy you should identify yourself with some worthy cause, but in making it your mission in life cultivate a spirit of tolerance. Do not attempt to monopolize situations; allow your associates freedom of action. Although you may recognize your faults and be willing to admit them, this is not sufficient. You must make an effort to eradicate them and thus improve yourself.

¶ You are apt to become materialistic and skeptical as the result of unpleasant experiences; either of these attitudes would greatly interfere with your success. Never allow circumstances to embitter you. Realize that what is is best, and that every experience carries with it a building influence. Resolve to heed each lesson, and profit by it.

¶ The diseases to which you are most susceptible are those affecting the stomach, abdominal organs, and the bowels; also intestinal complaints, dyspepsia and nervous debility caused by worry. You may have an aversion to taking medicines, or you may go to the other extreme of taking almost any nostrum. Your power of recuperation is extraordinary. In order to have perfect health you should be a vegetarian, following dietary rules much like those prescribed for an infant.

¶ Occupations for which you are best fitted and in which you would gain the greatest success are commercial pursuits of any kind; those of secretary, stenographer, accountant, stationer, printer, teacher, librarian, scientist, inventor, statistician; in all literary pursuits, particularly as a critic; professionally as chemist, dietician, trained nurse, diagnostician, and as a physician specializing in the treatment of the intestines.

¶ People who would prove most congenial to you are those born under the signs Virgo, Pisces, Scorpio, Taurus, Cancer and Capricorn.

"If thou," he answered, "follow thy star,
Thou canst not miss at last a glorious haven."—Dante

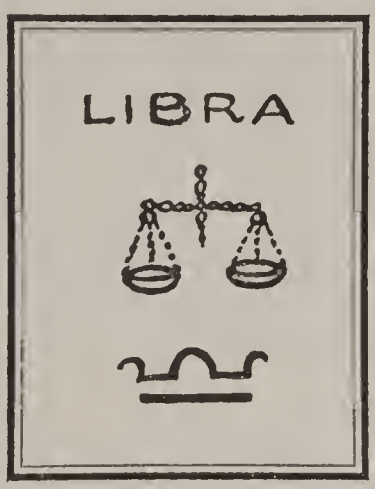
Ruled by Venus, the planet of love

If you were born between

SEPTEMBER 21st and OCTOBER 20th



Your chief characteristics are a sense of justice and the desire for equilibrium. You are extremely sensitive and remarkably intuitive. Your love nature holds sway above all else in life. You have a most lovable and charming personality when highly developed, and are capable of great affection. You have the ability to face the upheavals in life with great calmness. You believe in living and letting live. You are gentle, sensitive and agreeable, but are likely to go to extremes and are easily led by flattery. Ascertain the motive behind praise and be certain that you are worthy of it before accepting it. You should strive to have a reason behind the things you say and do, otherwise you are likely to be labeled superficial.

¶ You dislike meanness and sordidness. You should associate with people of a high intellectual and moral order, as you are highly impressionable. Never undertake leadership unless you are perfectly sure of yourself, as you are easily swayed through the emotions and are greatly influenced by your surroundings, therefore may act from feeling minus thought. Do not seek solitude. You are inclined to become moody and should at all times have companionship. The handling of the details in life should be left to some one who has your best interests at heart, as otherwise they may prove annoying and fret or worry you. System and routine are exacting jailers for you.

¶ Avoid being opinionative, and when angered be sure to leave something to the imagination. When you borrow something do not forget to return it. Do not make the mistake of thinking that everything is due you. In your keen desire to justify your own opinions you are apt to tread upon the feelings of others. Human traits and weaknesses must be allowed for. If you will be definite in your aims, analyze carefully your motive, and be sure it is a worthy one before putting it into action, you can make your life a shining example to all who are fortunate enough to come within your circle. If you are to maintain a happy equilibrium you must concentrate on your goal. It takes little to unsettle you, as your feelings rise and fall barometer-like until you are swayed beyond reason or give up hopelessly.

¶ Adjust yourself to your surroundings and if this becomes too trying a task, change your locale or remove the cause of irritation. You must have harmony in order to accomplish your best work. The results you can attain if you conquer your shortcomings will be astounding to yourself and to others.

¶ The diseases to which you are most susceptible are diabetes, Bright's disease, nephritis, eczema, blood disorders, and those which affect the small intestines, the kidneys, the lumbar region and the skin. The greatest remedies for you are quiet and a great deal of rest and sleep.

¶ Occupations for which you are best fitted and in which you would gain the greatest success are those of traveling salesman, merchandiser, bank clerk, pawnbroker, lawyer, or any position where physical labor is not required. You are apt to be very lazy, and dislike drudgery of any kind. Professionally you would excel as musician, actor, comedian, clown, designer, interior decorator, artist with pen or brush, sign painter or printer.

¶ The people who would prove most congenial to you are those born under the signs Libra, Aries, Leo, Aquarius, Gemini and Sagittarius.

Who breaks his birth's invidious bar
And grasps the skirts of happy chance,
And breasts the blows of circumstance,
And grapples with his evil star.—Tennyson

Ruled by Mars, the planet of force and activity

If you were born between

OCTOBER 21st and NOVEMBER 20th

Your chief characteristics are determination and penetration. You have a high regard for conventionalities. Your secretive faculties help you to conceal your faults but you should strive to correct rather than hide them. You are ever desirous of making a good impression, and you are either true and sincere or just the opposite. You have great magnetism and almost second sight, and can make constructive use of this higher wisdom inherent in you. You are a lover of ease and the good things in life and can attract them if you desire. Your great love of rulership and your equally persistent demand for obedience are very apt to make you a most domineering and disliked person, unless you govern wisely, as it unconsciously causes you to be brusque and sharp.

¶ Curb aggressiveness and be conservative. Never work under orders, this would bring combativeness strongly to the fore, as your fertile imagination and keen analytical mind, together with your great ambitious nature, readily conceive error in the actions of others and you are forever making comparisons. You are very loyal to those you like, form deep attachments, but are intensely suspicious. If you do not temper this jealousy with common sense you are apt to become a destructive force in the world. If people hurt you do not attempt to retaliate. Remember there is a higher power that adjusts all matters, and any attempt at revenge on your part merely reacts upon you and is a stumbling block in the way of your success. ¶ Be open and frank and do not expect more than you give. Your tremendous pride is constantly in danger of being wounded, and your tendency is to strike back. You must exercise self-restraint as a display of violence is unworthy of you. If you would stop and think a moment, controlling your feelings, you could, with your strong, forceful mind, sway opinions and attract to yourself the very things you desire. Promise yourself now that you can and will overcome any tendency toward contention or revenge and real success is yours—it is worth the effort. Your tenacity of purpose and enormous will-power will help you to attain any goal you may desire to reach.

¶ Diseases to which you are most susceptible are gout and all inflammatory complaints, infectious and venereal diseases, blood disorders, fistulas, throat trouble, ruptures, and diseases affecting the genito-urinary organs, uterus, bladder, rectum and the pituitary glands.

¶ Occupations for which you are best fitted and in which you would gain the greatest success are those of physician, surgeon, chemist, dentist, manufacturer of sharp instruments, producer of steel products of almost any kind, soldier, detective, actor, tragedian, masseur, lawyer, money-lender, photographer, secret government agent, sailor, dealer in liquids and dyes.

¶ People who would prove most congenial to you are those born under the signs Scorpio, Taurus, Capricorn, Cancer, Pisces and Virgo.

Ah! Who can tell how many a soul sublime
Has felt the influence of a malignant star.

* * * * * *

And with the setting sun
Dropt from the zenith like a falling star.

Ruling planet is Jupiter, the most benign influence

If you were born between

NOVEMBER 21st and DECEMBER 20th

Your chief characteristics are insight and fidelity. You are naturally prophetic and intuitive; self-confident and self-reliant. You are a lover of law and order, frank, generous and sensitive. Your greatest difficulty will be in marking a goal for yourself. You should definitely decide what you desire in life, then all your forces naturally tend toward the attainment of that goal. Unless you have a fixed objective you are very apt to vacillate and squander your force and energy, spending many unhappy years finding your path again. Your happiness depends upon your ability to express yourself through some individual labor. This is particularly true if you are a female.

¶ You are a lover of the outdoors and athletics, fond of all animals, particularly horses, and should make one of these interests a hobby. You are capable of picking out the weak points in others and hurting them carelessly, as you are either most diplomatic or not tactful at all. Deal gently with others, but truthfully and sincerely. You are naturally independent and rebellious of restraint. Never allow yourself to get into a rut or to be rash or impulsive in your actions or words. You live a great deal in the imagination, and this may cause you to greatly exaggerate matters. Therefore it is most essential that you determine the basic value of any project before furthering it.

¶ You should practise moderation in all things. Do one thing at a time, as " too many irons in the fire " may confuse you. The gambling spirit may be strong in you and you might waste an otherwise useful life if you give way to this tendency. You should endeavor to aim for the highest possible mode of life. You love freedom and if conditions sometimes beyond your control mar your vision you should not give way to irritability or disillusion. Make another attempt—strike out for the same goal. You can reach any height regardless of seeming limitations that may arise. Your great love of enterprise and progress will win for you the desired Utopia and you will then realize that the imaginary barriers themselves furnished the needed stimulus.

¶ Diseases to which you are most susceptible are rheumatism, sciatica, gout, those affecting the hips, thighs, muscular system, the lungs, nerves and arteries, and those causing depletion of the vital energies. Avoid excess of any kind.

¶ Occupations for which you are best fitted and in which you would gain greatest success are those of judge, lawyer, stock broker, insurance agent, ecclesiast, foreign diplomat, teacher, salesman, horse trainer, and any work connected with the race track; public service work, welfare work. If a woman, you would excel as a beauty culturist, manicurist, showgirl, manikin or masseuse.

¶ People who would prove most congenial to you are those born under the signs Sagittarius, Gemini, Leo, Aquarius, Aries and Libra.

Not till the fire is dying in the grate
Look we for any kinship with the stars.

Ruling planet is Saturn, the great teacher, and cause of all obstacles

If you were born between

DECEMBER 21st and JANUARY 20th

Your chief characteristics are understanding and diplomacy. You have a high order of intelligence, being studious and ambitious. You are practical and concrete, and willing to work matters out instead of awaiting opportunity. You are fond of pomp and honor, which, if you will consider carefully, you will find mean very little. You should find your happiness merely in the doing. You have a keen conception of money values and are generally willing to plod until you accumulate a competency. You work best under orders, and are capable of handling details. You are methodical and careful with matters entrusted to you, and will carry instructions out to the letter. You are, however, likely to become phlegmatic and find yourself hemmed in unless you bestir yourself occasionally.

¶ Secretiveness and suspicion may keep from you many friendships that you might otherwise enjoy, and it is necessary for your own betterment that you mingle more with people, both in a business and a social way, allowing them to get nearer to you. It takes a long time, if ever, to change your mind, once you become set on any principle or idea. Therefore, you must weigh carefully beforehand the possibilities for complete harmony in any projects you may engage in. In the event that you become the object of injustice you are likely to sulk over it. You might also have quite a streak of envy and jealousy, which it would be well for you to submerge.

¶ Be as open and frank in your dealings with others as you desire them to be with you. You can by sincere effort bring to the surface and put into action the tremendous power concealed within yourself for reaching well-nigh perfection. You can unfold the life-forces surging within you and stimulate into action the good impulses sheltered in every one who crosses your path.

¶ It is your exacting nature and the persevering endeavor to reach the goal that tend to keep you plodding. Realize that the surest way to success for you is in starting correctly.

¶ The tendency to live within yourself makes you contemplative and moody, and unless you make a prodigious effort to live up to your own tenets you are apt to sink into a state of depression bordering on melancholy. Dwelling in the mind, and a constant rehearsal of events and existing conditions may cause you loss of opportunities. Escape the bonds that are fettering you and live up to your highest ideals. Your steady determination will insure your safely overcoming trying conditions. In your case it is the urging of yourself onward to a new effort that is the difficulty. If you can purge your motives of selfishness no greater success can be achieved than yours. Try it. You can not fail.

¶ Diseases to which you are most susceptible are those affecting the knees, hands, bones and joints; colds, rheumatism, biliousness, melancholia, hypochondria, and lingering ailments. Pay particular attention to the teeth, as they may be the cause of most of your ill health.

¶ Occupations for which you are best fitted, and in which you would gain the greatest success, are those of teacher, politician, tiller of the soil, real estate operator, builder, architect, bookkeeper, statistician, farmer, diplomat, salesman, dealer in clothing, woolens, lead products and coal; mathematician, miner, printer, jailer, institution worker, lobbyist, scientist, or any work where laborious details are involved. While you may not like details, yet you manage them well.

¶ People who would prove most congenial to you are those born under the signs Capricorn, Cancer, Pisces, Virgo, Taurus and Scorpio.

And the sentinel stars set their watch in the sky.

Ruling planet is Uranus, the revolutionist

If you were born between

JANUARY 21st and FEBRUARY 20th

Your chief characteristics are idealism and benevolence. You are impulsive, and should think matters out carefully before making a decision. Most events in life will come to you unexpectedly, either for good or evil, and it is for you to determine by your attitude the amount of happiness you desire life to bring you. You are strong for principle, and because of your dogmatism you are likely to be labeled eccentric. You are apt to be very abrupt and have little or no respect for conventions. You have the interests of the world at heart and are a true humanitarian when living up to your highest possibilities. You ask advice and listen with sincerity, but are likely to act to the contrary; therefore it is best that you follow your own counsel and avoid criticism.

¶ You have a high order of intellect and crave a knowledge of profound subjects. Your intuitive faculties are so highly developed that you can almost read the character of individuals upon first meeting them. You loathe restraint and are intolerant of interference. Your capabilities are many. You are quick to see a point and are of extremely accurate understanding. Being so versatile, you are very apt to become a sensationalist, and thereby attract elements that may prove deleterious to your future hopes or ambitions.

¶ You should be alone for a period every day and study yourself closely. You are apt to have great upheavals in life, entirely overthrowing the old order of things for the new, which may retard your advancement unless you understand the principles of life and can realize that whatever happens comes as a building influence, developing your weaker traits, even though it may seem unbearable at the time. Under adversity you are apt to become quite materialistic, and, as this is foreign to your true nature, if you allow it to rule your actions it may cause you a great deal of anxiety and misery. Avoid becoming an extremist. Remember at all times that there are greater things in life than the material. You may often have great responsibilities to bear, and it will take all your power to avoid the desire to throw them off quickly and without thought of others.

¶ You are the true character reader, as you have remarkable intuition, but when you refuse to heed the inner voice and allow your inflexible will to dominate you along purely personal lines, you lose your power for good, and the result is that you find yourself capricious, vacillating and unhappy. You will find it worth the effort to concentrate on one thing at a time, and take a genuine interest in life and all that it holds for you. Reflect but a moment and your idealistic thoughts will permeate you, and with the proper attitude of mind you may start on the road toward many successes. If rightly developed you could use your extraordinary powers of leadership to great advantage to the entire race.
¶ Diseases to which you are most susceptible are nerve and blood disorders, cramps, all acute diseases and those affecting the nervous system, lymphatic systems, legs and ankles, and the circulatory system. Fresh air and exercise are your greatest remedies for ill health.
¶ Occupations for which you are best fitted and in which you would gain the greatest success are those of electrician, inventor, architect, painter, sculptor, oculist, astrologer, dealer in antiques, telegrapher, stock salesman, railroad worker of any kind, writer, extemporaneous speaker, magician, detective, dealer in all types of oddities, magnetic healer, spiritualist, and promoter of large enterprises.

¶ People who would prove most congenial to you are those born under the signs Aquarius, Leo, Gemini, Sagittarius, Libra and Aries.

Who falls for love of God shall rise a star.

Ruling planet is Neptune, ruler of the subconscious

If you were born between

FEBRUARY 21st and MARCH 20th

Your chief characteristics are emotionalism and sympathy. You are very apt to go through life misunderstood, even by those close to you. You may lack self-confidence, and therefore lose a great many possibilities. You seek and follow the advice of others to a great extent, so that for you it is most essential that you associate with right thinking people, those whose influence is bound to be beneficial to you.

¶ You are the most sensitive and sensational of all the peoples, and should not take yourself or others too seriously. You seem to be at most times in touch with the very core of humanity, and your understanding of things in general is apt to be even beyond your own comprehension, and may cause you to become moody and distressed. You are very likely to fear the outcome of enterprises in which your interests are centered and magnify ordinary obstacles greatly to your own detriment. Your emotional nature is so deep that you may often be imposed upon; your ideals so high that it is difficult for others to live up to them.

¶ In conversation you may experience a desire to interrupt and do all the talking; you should curb this tendency. You dislike details of any kind, therefore should never place yourself in positions of too great responsibility. If you do you may worry yourself into a state of frenzy. You are likely to suffer most through your heart attachments, as your love nature is intense and you find romance even in adventure. Therefore, use judgment and select your friendships carefully. You are a sincere and loyal friend and are greatly moved with pity for all the lowly. You want to do so much that you are very likely to become untruthful and make more promises than you can ever fulfill. You should particularly guard against self-indulgence. Avoid dissipation in any form, for once any intemperance gains a hold on you it would require more than human power to remove it.

¶ You must be fair with yourself. Admit your shortcomings and try to improve. Do not allow yourself to be inconsistent. You are apt to become discontented, discouraged; you waver, afraid to go on, timid even as to grasping opportunities within your reach. Conquer these feelings, or you will lose contact with the world about you and stagnate. Consider well just how far you have progressed and you will find that you have not even begun to fathom the capabilities within you. Avoid the dreary, emotional, muddled outlook on life. A prodigious effort on your part may turn into glorious success that which has been a seeming failure. Think! That is your key-note, for you differ entirely from the people of the other signs. You must live your life unaided. Your victories must be won alone. You can not be harmed except by yourself. Knowing this, determine to make your life an ideal one.

¶ Diseases to which you are most susceptible are bowel disorders, gout, colds, dropsy, diabetes, and those affecting the respiratory system, the lymphatic system, lungs, feet, and all ailments that are the direct result of worry and anxiety. Avoid at all times impure conditions, mentally or physically or morally.

¶ Occupations for which you are best fitted and in which you would gain the greatest success are those of artist, writer, sensational novelist, autobiographer, dealer in fine arts, hotelkeeper, seafaring man, spiritualist, medium, psychic, caterer, mystic, magician, actor, religionist, follower of secret cults, discoverer, physician, doing secretive work or any duty connected with large institutions.

¶ People who would prove most congenial to you are those born under the signs Pisces, Virgo, Taurus, Scorpio, Capricorn and Cancer.

When I gazed into those stars, have they not looked down on me with pity from their serene spaces, like eyes glistening with heavenly tears over the little lot of man.—Carlyle

USING ASTROLOGY IN DAILY LIFE

Extracts from an interview

THE greater part of our success and happiness in life depends upon our ability to deal with others in such a way as to eliminate friction and promote good feeling. This applies not only to domestic and social life but is one of the most vital elements of business success. It is especially applicable to salesmen, physicians, teachers, clergymen, newspaper reporters, lawyers, supervisors of employees, and all workers in institutions dealing with mental defectives or the so-called "criminal" class.

¶ Ascertain the date of birth of the person to be approached, or to be dealt with in any way, then follow the methods outlined below.

¶ In approaching people born between March 21st and April 20th, proceed boldly, say to them explicitly exactly what you wish to be known.

¶ People born between April 21st and May 20th should be approached cautiously. Do not press them for an answer to your question if they refuse it, but try another line of questioning, or put the same query in different words.

¶ Never be serious with those born between May 21st and June 20th. If you will treat everything lightly you can obtain whatever information or service you desire from them.

¶ Those born between June 21st and July 20th can be best reached by appealing to their emotions. Be very careful not to frighten them.

¶ People born between July 21st and August 20th are best reached through an appeal to the feelings or to the heart. Show them the benefit they are doing to humanity. Be just and kind and you will receive their interest and co-operation.

¶ The best manner of approaching people born between August 21st and September 20th is through their reasoning powers. Give them a practical demonstration that will appeal to their intellect and you will gain your point.

¶ Be very gentle with people born between September 21st and October 20th. Never raise your voice but be very courteous and refined.

¶ You need not use gentle methods in dealing with people born between October 21st and November 20th. Take matters into your own hands—be yourself with them.

¶ Come right to the point in dealing with people born between November 21st and December 20th. Be direct and outspoken. Never veil your purpose with them.

¶ People born between December 21st and January 20th are very suspicious and secretive. Never meet them alone or try to be confidential with them.

¶ Those born between January 21st and February 20th are very strong-willed and impulsive. You never can tell exactly what they are going to do. You will have to feel your way with them, as they allow personal feeling to influence their judgment.

¶ You can best approach those born between February 21st and March 20th by rousing their sympathetic nature with a pathetic story. Be careful, however, for they are very peculiar, and if they think you are trying to "corner" them they will walk right away from you or change the subject entirely. Be tactful; let them talk and they will soon tell you all you want to know.

PERSONAL TO THE READER

¶ The scientific treatment of the zodiacal signs as given in this book is solely from the position of the Sun. The Sun, in Astrology, rules the individuality. The degree of development of the individuality is the basis for all the trials and tribulations in life. The sole aim in the writing of this book is to give man a knowledge of himself by acquainting him with his inherent characteristics, as character is destiny.

¶ Data under "YOUR FUTURE" is taken from the aspects of the five major planets to the position of the Sun at birth. More than one of these influences may prevail at the same time, and either or both may be felt. For example, Saturn well aspected may bring improvement in one's employment, but Jupiter at the same time badly aspected brings difficulties with finances. Therefore, we have a man receiving a better position but no money advancement. For further enlightenment it is necessary to seek the aid of a scientific astrologist. Use the same discretion in selecting your astrologist as you would in selecting your physician.

PLANETS' INFLUENCE GIVES LITTLE HOPE OF PEACE TILL 1944

Written by Belle Bart, for the New York American, December 4, 1921

THE conjunction of the planets Jupiter and Saturn occurred in September, 1921. Virgo rules the region around Mesopotamia from the Tigris to the Euphrates and Upper Silesia, also parts of Germany and parts of France. This conjunction occurs every twenty years and has been considered highly important. Serious political upheavals generally occur in the countries ruled by the signs in which this conjunction occurs.

¶ A few instances of the power that the conjunction of these planets has had over countries in the past may be cited. In 1861, this conjunction was followed by the war between Prussia and Austria. The planet of war, Mars, was at that time in Libra, the ruling sign of Austria. Another conjunction occurred in Virgo in 1870 and the Franco-Prussian war followed and the Siege of Paris, which city is ruled by Virgo.

¶ In 1901, the conjunction of Saturn and Jupiter occurred in the sign Capricorn. India is ruled by Capricorn. The war following this conjunction affected the centre and east of Europe and Russia in the Russo-Japanese war which lasted from 1904 to 1905.

¶ The unsettled condition that has been going on in India since that time shows the powerful influence of these planets coming to the conjunction in the different signs of the Zodiac and their relative bearing on the countries ruled by the signs.

¶ The planets Jupiter and Saturn are at present passing through the sign of the balance, Libra. The zodiacal sign Libra rules Japan, China and Austria. This sign is opposed to the sign Aries, which rules Great Britain, and as opposites attract, this may be the cause of the pact between Japan and England.

¶ It will be interesting, at least, to watch the result that may come of this planetary influence.

¶ Jupiter passing through the ruling sign of a country brings prosperity, trade and reforms that are beneficial to the Government.

¶ Saturn transiting through the ruling sign causes hindrances of various kinds by affecting the health of the nations and by its vibrations causing political changes of national importance. As Libra, the sign of the Scales of Justice, houses these two planets, neither Saturn nor Jupiter will completely hold sway but will be weighed in the scales.
¶ The planet Mars, representative of energy, strength and courage, also significant of the Red influence of war is, at present also in the sign Libra. The countries ruled by the sign through which Mars passes are generally the centre of activity and argumentation.
¶ This planet is significantly coming to the conjunction of Jupiter and when these two bodies join, they usually bring an excitable spirit into the public life, arousing enthusiasm and activity in politics and business, threatening disagreement of foreign affairs and causing heavy expenditure.
¶ In Europe, the effects will be felt in Russia, Poland, Hungary, Austria and Italy.
¶ In America, at present, Mars being the planet of quick action may send a wave of excitement of a martial nature through the land, but being allied with the benign influences of Jupiter, benefits will result through friends and allies abroad. The planet Uranus, producing changes and acting as an expulsion, is in the sign Pisces. This sign represents the dissolution of the old age and symbolizes the temperament of the world at the present time, also that of national politics, and by the uncertainty of the action of Uranus, much must obviously change in the future.

¶ The present cycle, ruled by the planet Mars, remains in force until the year 1944. We can not, therefore, hope for an entirely peaceful response of all national powers until the passing of the cycle. Summing up the present conference, it will at least be the means of solving the motives of the individual nations for the future.

HOW TO PICK A JOB BY THE STARS

INTERVIEW WITH BELLE BART

By Jessie Henderson, for the Philadelphia Public Ledger, May 20, 1922

NOTICE those calm planets wheeling majestically through the sky so far away, so undisturbed, so incomprehensible?

¶ You can pick a job by them. You can run your home by them. You can select a husband by them.

¶ Pish-tush, say you.

¶ Oh, all right. Pish-tush as much as you like. It's what people said when scientists first announced that the moon—so far away, so undisturbed, so mysterious—ruled the tides of the oceans on this world. It's what the old folks guffawed when scientists announced later that the only reason the world rolled sedately in its orbit instead of crashing about like a bull in a china shop was because those planets and all those millions of stars, and especially the sun, exerted a power known as the force of attraction, which kept the universe under control.

¶ A lot of people, scientists among them, believe the planets, the sun and the moon have a good deal of influence one way and another, both directly and indirectly, on the lives of men. If you think the only influence the sun has on the life of man is to give him sunburn in July, or if you think the chief influence of the moon is to give him palpitation of the heart on the beach in June, then you won't be interested in astrology, nor in Belle Bart, who tells people how to pick a job or a husband or to run their household affairs by starlight. Miss Bart holds what she calls a " human nature clinic." To her clinic come people who want advice about business affairs, or people who are merely curious.

¶ So firmly convinced is she of the value of looking at human affairs by starlight that she has even invented an ingenious device by which you can manage your affairs, business, social and emotional, by the stars. If things go wrong you can see which star is messing them up. And often you can avoid the messing up by taking extra precautions when one mischievous star is in the ascendant. This, in rough outline, is the big idea of the Barascope.

¶ But about picking a job, running a home and choosing a husband by starlight. Here are some suggestions.

¶ If you want a housemaid, a perfect treasure, get one born between June 21 and July 20. " I would not take a housekeeper or a maid who was n't born within those two dates," Belle Bart declared. If you want a good manicure, get somebody born between November 21 and December 20. " Almost every manicurist I ever knew was born between those dates."

¶ But the stars don't hand much in the way of a recommendation to the man born between May 21 and June 20, or between November 21 and December 20—at least not when it comes to being a husband. These fellows are likely to be a bit frivolous. Once in a while there may be an exception, when some other good, sober, steady star has intervened, but the general run of these late May and early June chaps is more to the beau than the benedick.

¶ As for picking a job, I can imagine nothing more vital. Upon it depends very often the social, domestic and spiritual outlook of your whole life. There 'd be less gloom in the world if more people were in the jobs for which their abilities fit them.

¶ People born between January 21 and February 20, she went on to explain, are under the sign of Aquarius, ruled by the planet Uranus, and they differ from all other types in the world. Independent in thought, refusing to be held down, they are original, broad-minded, quick in their perceptions, but not good at detail. People born between February 21 and March 20 come under the sign Pisces, ruled by the mystical planet Neptune, and they are the most misunderstood people in all the world. Sensitive, self-indulgent, hospitable, sympathetic, they have pronounced artistic tastes. They are, however, easily imposed upon, they can't take care of money, and they need a boss. ¶ The folks born between March 21 and April 20, under the sign of Aries influenced by the planet Mars, are natural rulers. Mars being the planet of activity, these folks can't work under orders because they're hipped on the subject of complete freedom. They are energetic and happiest when outdoors. On the other hand, those born between April 21 and May 20, under the sign of Taurus and and the influence of Venus, are perfectly satisfied to go along calmly till some one waves a red flag. Once they're in a rut, it takes a jolt to get them out. ¶ If they're born between May 21 and June 20, under the sign of Gemini and the rule of Mercury, they must be active both mentally and physically to be happy. They can and should be interested in more than one thing. The women, by the way, are generally self-supporting and often very emotional.

¶ People born between June 21 and July 20, under the sign of Cancer ruled by the Moon, would rather walk around an obstacle or back away from it than fight it. They are domestic and sensitive. Very different are the ones born between July 21 and August 20, under the sign Leo ruled by the Sun. Many kings have been born then or had some planet strong in Leo, and so have many noted clergymen. Great faith and love of mankind is one trait; a desire to rule is another, and the result is some one very good or very bad. Those born between August 21 and September 20, under the sign Virgo ruled by Mercury, are intellectual and very critical and analytical. People born between September 21 and October 20, under the sign Libra ruled by Venus, are keen on justice, art and the joys of working in harness instead of alone. Between October 21 and November 20, the sign of Scorpio ruled by Mars makes people revengeful, sharp in intellect, and endowed with the power to sway audiences.

¶ Between November 21 and December 20, Sagittarius and Jupiter get in some fine work which makes people restless, ambitious and financially successful. Capricorn and Saturn, powerful between December 21 and January 20, bestow a capacity for details, for carrying out orders exactly, and for anything requiring concentration, study and the following of a trail.

¶ "Mars will remain powerful till 1944," she remarked, "and entire peace will not be possible till his influence begins to wane. The fall of 1923 is a very dangerous period. Great Britain should at that time keep her eyes open. The United States may have something to do with it, but our participation will be of short duration.

¶ "England is likely to become republic, the change being sooner than most people anticipate. Lloyd George is coming back into power.

¶ "President Harding is due for a very difficult and critical time.

¶ "The Anti-Prohibitionists will make a strong fight in October or November of this year and they stand a good chance of success, provided they reach the peak of activity before December."

¶ These—take Belle Bart's word for it—are some of the interesting things the stars are mixing up for earth consumption.
